

Aerial Catwalks Haunts of Film Electricians

HOLLYWOOD — Being "up in the air" is a traditional characteristic of the film electrician, and he is not the only one spending his time around the studios. For ten and twelve hours at a stretch, crews of expert electricians are busy about the studios, climbing about on precarious "catwalks" and scaffolding high above the performers while a picture is being made, turning lights on or off, brightening or dimming them according to the needs of the scene below.

Practically all their time is spent perched in the rafters of the great sound stages, directing the powerful ceiling lights used in modern film making. Sound pictures have greatly changed their work. In the days of silent films, the "gaffer" was their orders by means of a whistle, but with the advent of the "talkies," the electrician must be able to receive their instructions by sign and eye from the director. They must be as expert in watching their cues as the players.

The "gaffer," or, as he is called, the "gaffer," acts as interpreter for the director. Some idea of the ability that he commands is shown in the fact that he can be called from the fact that an average black and white picture demands thirty electricians on the job all the time, while a color picture requires fifty men to handle the lights.

On the black and white film, these men handle a variety of ceiling lamps and in the color picture two hundred lamps could be used. These lamps are lowered or raised, increased or decreased in their positions, changed, at the lifting of a finger. Not a word

SPORT

BY BOB ELLIOTT

MORE and more it's beginning to look like the Kappa for the Commercial league championship and by the biggest margin that any of the league winners will ring up. The fraternity boys are easily the only standing team of the Friday night boys and should count close to two for a game during the rest of the season. Their downtown gathering spot of Elmore Park, Dutch Zupan and May Hise is just about the strongest that any one team can have. Any one of the three is capable of starting a game and most of the time finishing it. Also plenty of hitters with Willie Balkauf, Bill Wood, the Grubbers, and Marion Hinkley.

You've got to give these Calvary fans a lot of credit for their faith in their ball team anyway. Just this morning one of the most rabid of these, asked the author what odds he wanted on the St. Mary's-Calvary game next Tuesday night at Lincoln Park. Anybody that had the nerve to let very much money on the Calvary team that played against the Baptists a couple of nights ago to beat anybody, let alone give odds is a real sportsman. The Irish are pretty confident that they're going to repeat the Baptists' defeat. You understand I said confident, not "cocky." Anyway the loop leaders are going to have one awfully tough battle on their hands and it's anybody's game.

WHAT'S in a name anyway? Just referring to the changing of the local Sunday baseball team from James Hinkley back to the Steam Shovel Athletic Association. It seems to me that that's about all that's been accomplished this summer, changing from Mr. Hinkley to the Association or from the Association to Mr. Hinkley. Well let's hope that it stays with the weekend organization for at least long enough to get used to writing the name either the "Shoreline" or the "Shovelers." Whether or not there will be a game next Sunday here is not known right at the present time. Manager Bacon is trying to get in touch with the Toledo Automobiles for a return game.

If present plans of the Steam Shovel Athletic Association go through there will be a county tennis championship tournament held on the local Shovel courts starting either in late July or early August. Cups would be awarded to women's and men's singles, doubles in both classes and mixed doubles. Also a possible separate class for the younger boys and girls will be held. Plans are being worked out between Francis Bacon of the Shovel company and this paper as to the details of the tournament. Further details as well as entry blanks will be printed soon. Watch for them.

St. Mary's and the Prospect battled through 11 innings of play last evening at the Steam Shovel diamond to end themselves in a 2-2 deadlock when the ump called the game on account of darkness. The game was fiercely fought all the way through with both teams scoring runs in the first inning and once in the sixth.

Both outfits had numerous chances to win the game in the closing innings of play but neither was able to capitalize on the opportunities. The Prospect's batting order, which was 6-4, 6-4, 6-3. It was (Cobert's) first defeat at the hands of an American since 1927.

When Schmelz first offered to give the Boston club a return bout, he did so with the proviso that he be given an out and out release from Boston, in which he is under contract until Oct. 13 of this year. Sharkey agreed to let that Boston club get his 20 percent of the net gate receipts but in his lengthy document, Buslow retained the right to sue Schmelz for any other remuneration he thought might be coming.

And upon that clause hangs the failure of the match to go through as Jacobs said nothing doing. Schmelz must have a positive release.

PROPOSED HEAVY GOArthur Buslow's Demands Are Too Much for Jacobs
To Meet.

NEW YORK, July 3.—A complicated financial argument in which Joe Jacobs and Arthur Buslow appear to be endeavoring to outwit each other, has suddenly terminated the plans for a return bout between Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey at the Yankee stadium in September.

Yesterday Madison Square Garden had Sharkey's name on a contract and had hopes of getting Schmeling's signature through Jacobs, when Buslow, the German's deposed manager, bobbed up with an eight-page document that was entirely unsatisfactory to Jacobs, who now is in charge of Max's interests.

WONDER OF ATLANTA
HAS CAPTURED TOO
MANY GOLF HONORSBobby To Face Brilliant Field in Competition at Interlachen.

BY DAVID J. WALSH

L. N. S. Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 3.—His not to daily in the effulgence of a nation's homage. His only to receive the deference due a conqueror and hasten away to conquer again. Bobby Jones will be off to the wars once more before daylight today. His last victory over Minnesota and a greater test than any he yet has experienced, the National Open golf championship, Jones was the toast of the nation, indeed, yesterday, as he came home with the British Amateur and Open championships to receive a welcome that is echoing in his ears even at this moment.

But today grim reality has come with the cold light of morning. Yesterday's cheers are drowned in the tumult of tomorrow's worries. It is the penalty of fame that a hero must remain heroic to the end and so Jones is forced to turn his back upon a nation to set forth for Interlachen and—what?

Personally, I suspect that he is going out to meet his first defeat of a great year. This is mere opinion and, therefore, no less worthless than the average opinion seems to be. Jones arrived here, spot-tanned and almost aggressively healthy. He hadn't lost his golf clubs, as alleged. He hadn't been ill, as suggested by secreted cables. He was and will remain the greatest golfer this bunkered world would have known and probably will know. But this comes pretty close to being the year for him to lose the National Open championship. It isn't in the books for Jones to win at Interlachen.

Won Too Many
Jones simply has won more than his share of honors, even for a man whose golf is almost foolproof. He has been under a strain the like of which would give a pack mule nervous prostration. Within a period of three weeks, he won the British Amateur and the British Open championships, with barely a breathing spell between. He already has achieved a miracle. It is asking too much to expect him to parlay this amazing performance into something that would cover of competitive sorcery.

Hudson frankly being what it is, Jones is overdue for the inevitable reaction. And the field he will face at Interlachen must be potentially stronger, more menacing for the addition of Hagen, Farrell, Sarazen, Dunsmore Shute and others than was the conquered list at Hoylake. If Jones wins this one, after all the winning he has done, there simply will be nothing for it but to take the old-fashioned, nose-covered hat of averages and hurl it violently out upon the rear alleyway.

A REAL CHAMPION

SAMMY BAKER LOSER
TO BABY JOE GANSVeteran New York Walter Given Terrible Beating by California Star.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, July 3.—Sergeant Sammy Baker, the veteran New York welterweight champion, was in a serious condition today from head injuries suffered in a boxing at the hands of Baby Joe Gans of California in their 12-round fight at Taylor Bowl last night.

Baker collapsed in the last round and was taken to St. Alexis hospital, where an x-ray was ordered today to learn whether he was suffering from hemorrhage of the brain or a fractured skull.

Baker, rolling from Gans' onslaught and at the limit of endurance from eight knockdowns, staggered backward and sank to the canvas after a minute and 35 seconds of the final round. As referee Matt Beck rolled nine, the New Yorker gamely pulled himself to his feet to face another two-sided falling from his narrow rival. He sank to the canvas once more and this time referee Brock ruled it a technical knockout.

Baker won only three rounds, the third, fourth and eighth, although he twice felled Gans. Nearly 4,000 spectators alternately cheered and booed the pair.

CHICAGO, July 3.—Gerald Ambrose Griffith, the aspiring heavyweight hope from Sioux City, Iowa, has changed his ring name from "Fluffy" back to "Tuffy."

Fighting for the position he once held as a heavyweight of championship caliber, Griffith silenced his critics at the Chicago stadium last night by giving Rubeney Johnny Ricko, the big cake baker from Cleveland, a sound thrashing in 10 rounds.

Castling aside his usual care, Griffith carried the fight to Ricko from start to finish, winning nine rounds decisively. He outboxed and outboxed his puffed rival and cracked him almost at will.

Jockey Seems To Be Fatalist

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 3.—Evidently Earl Sande is a fatalist for America's premier jockey will journey to Chicago in his automobile to ride Gallant Fox in his Arlington Park engagements. Sande was in his third accident in three weeks Tuesday, when the steering wheel of his automobile flew off, but other than few scratches was not injured.

The first of Sande's series of accidents came on the eve of the Belmont Stakes, when his face was cut badly as a result of an automobile collision. The second was when Distraction upset him on the way to the post in the Brooklyn Handicap and caused him to be out of the saddle for a week with a sprained ankle.

Games in Series with Sea-

BY HUGH S. FILLERION, JR.

Of 65 games played in their recent home stand the eastern clubs of the American League won 46, leaving only 19 victories for the western clubs. Washington put the tie against the finish of the International yesterday, moving into second place by winning both games of a double header from the St. Louis Browns, 7 to 4 and 5 to 3. The first game went 12 innings.

The double victory gave the Nats a game's advantage over the Browns, the Athletics and the Yankees, both of whom played double headers.

Break Struck
The Athletics' five game winning streak was broken when Detroit beat the champions, 4 to 3, behind the fine pitching of Earl Whitehill in the first game, but they returned to form with a 7 to 2 triumph in the second.

An injury to Babe Ruth and the slumping feat of Carl Reynolds closed the season.
